

My hiding place

I will not be afraid,
For You are my hiding place—
A secure refuge, the safest space,
A shelter free from all condemnation,
A haven of unshaken confidence.

I will not fear,
For You are my hiding place.
No danger can draw near enough to harm;
I am safe, encircled by Your arms,
Secure in You as in an impregnable fortress.

I will not be found by the enemy,
For You are my hiding place.
I am hidden with Christ in You:
None who intend harm can see me through,
For I am concealed, O Lord, in You.

I will not be anxious,
For You are my hiding place.
None can disturb this perfect peace:
My confidence is in You—and You are my confidence;
My trust is in You—and You are my trust.

And more than this:
You cover me with songs,
Songs of deliverance.
Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee.
